WORDS FROM LESLIE’S ETHICAL WILL.

I have found that maintaining a positive attitude has been the biggest asset to my life. Life does have ups and downs, which all newcomers as well. I was left feeling helpless and your ability to overcome adversity will always help you land on your feet. In other words, hard work, perseverance and a bit of luck also help. Do not be afraid to take a chance, and do not fail your word, KEEP IT. Try to be the person that can be counted on. Remember to have fun in your life.

It is very important to be reliable – if you give your word, keep it. Do not let your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.

It is important to maintain a sense of humor and a sense of optimism. Always be loyal to your family and go out of your way to be helpful. Not at all times, not at all times, not at all times. Ask people their names, remember who they are, and do not be intimidated by wealth or degrees. Treat everyone well, especially those weaker or less capable than you.
FROM THE BEGINNING
LESLIE: I was born in England on March 11, 1925, and my name was given to me by my father and mother who were both Irish. They were both of the same name, Leslie, which was a very common name in Ireland. But the nickname I chose is not the same. I chose Leslie, which I believe is more a reflection of me. I have a passion for life, and I believe that passion is what makes us who we are.

THE DAY THE WORLD CHANGED
LESLIE: On September 5, 1939, our journey began, as we were relocated to the British Army and made our way to London. From there, we boarded a train to San Francisco.

FROM THE BEGINNING
LESLIE: I was discharged in 1946. After the war, there was a terrible wave of anti-Semitism. The recognition of the Jewish Brigade in Italy changed everything. The Brigade was formed by Britain to have a battalion of Jewish soldiers. They were a very special unit, led by Leslie’s father. Leslie’s father was a very special man, a very special leader.

THE DAY THE WORLD CHANGED
LESLIE: It helps if you believe in guardian angels.